Education is the most efficient way to pull someone out of poverty. And, ultimately, help them live up to their potential as a child of God.

At TEAM, we believe God can use your skills as an educator to declare His glory among the nations. Teachers are in a unique position — they get to create one-on-one relationships with individual students and shape the way young minds approach the world! Because of this, we believe that the classroom is one of the best platforms from which to spread the Gospel.

FROM THE FIELD

“Education is a great and versatile platform for ministry because it provides teachers with a lot of freedom in how to communicate the Good News to their students. Kids are going to be in schools regardless, so what better way than to meet them where they are?”

— TEAM missionary-teacher in East Asia

WHAT KIND OF SCHOOLS CAN I TEACH IN AS A MISSIONARY?

TEAM missionaries teach in a wide variety of schools all over the world. From rural, one-room schoolhouses in Chad to long-established missionary kid schools in Germany, we offer a range of opportunities for educators.

WILL I BE ABLE TO SHARE MY FAITH IN SCHOOLS OVERSEAS?

In many schools, sharing your faith with students is no problem. However, assignments in more closed-off communities may require creativity and patience before sharing your faith.

If you can’t explicitly share the Gospel inside the school building, you can still find ample opportunity to share Jesus’ love with your students. We’ve walked with many missionary-teachers as they figured out how to build relationships with their students and share the Gospel in one-on-one settings. And our seasoned missionary-teachers are eager to share what they’ve learned!

WHAT IF I ONLY SPEAK ENGLISH?

We highly encourage our missionaries to attend language school before and after they arrive in their host country. We generally suggest missionaries focus most of their energy on language learning during their first two years on the field. However, a lot of international schools need English-speaking teachers! So even during your language learning period, you can still teach.

If you’re a teacher who wants to serve God, you can serve Him in the classroom — no matter where you are in the world!
